

Campus Comedians In Cohn Tonite

PICTURED ABOVE are several members of the cast of the Inspector General, the Dramatic Society's production which will be presented on December 2, 3 and 4.

Gogol Satire Set As Dramatic Production

The Inspector General, Nikolai Gogol's brilliant satire, will be presented by the Mask and Rapier Society on December 2, 3 and 4 at 8:30 P.M. in Cohn Hall. Admission will be seventy-five cents.

The members of the Dramatic Society began intensive rehearsals for their production over two weeks ago. Since then they have been meeting five nights a week to bring the play to perfection. This will be the first major production of the year for the Dramatic Society, and Mr. H. Charles Staley's first directing effort at Loyola College.

Taymans Heads Cast

A large cast is being headed by Bill Taymans who will play Ivan Alexandrovitch Hlestakov, the St. Petersburg playboy who is mistaken for a government inspector, with hilarious consequences. Among the supporting players are Betty Ann Lambie from Notre Dame and Kitty Kelly and Mary Atkinson from Mt. St. Agnes. Others in the cast include Jim Lombardi, Al Fields, Dan Mackey, Will McKenna, Ray Penn, Ed Leahy, Lou Gunshol and John Kuhn. Several of these are making their first appearance on the Loyola stage.

Although written by Nikolai Gogol, the famous Russian playwright in 1836, The Inspector General is still first rate entertainment today. Danny Kaye starred in a film version of the play several years ago and the movie was a huge success.

A Case Of Mistaken Identity

The play concerns the incompetent and somewhat corrupt officials of a provincial Russian town. When word reaches them that the government Inspector General, traveling incognito, is about to visit their town, everyone from dog catcher to mayor is thrown into an uproar. Meanwhile, an itinerant playboy from St. Petersburg is staying at the village inn. Town gossips mistake him for the Inspector General. Before long the mayor and police commissioner come to visit him to see if he will take bribes. But the hapless lad thinks they have come to arrest him. Pandemonium reigns.

Support Needed

Members of the Dramatics Society are hoping for the firm support of their production by Loyola students and their families. "We feel that our production of The Inspector General will really be terrific," said John Kuhn, president of the Mask and Rapier and assistant director of the play. "It's really a great play and things have been shaping up nicely in rehearsal."

Tickets are only seventy-five cents apiece. They may be purchased from class representatives, members of the Boosters Club, or in the Campus Shop.

Noted Loyola Graduate Awarded Peace Prize

Dr. Charles G. Fenwick, Loyola alumnus, famed political scientist, author and international law expert, received the 1954 Peace Award of the Catholic Association of International Peace. The award was presented to Dr. Fenwick at the Peace Award Banquet of the 27th Annual Conference of the C.A.I.P. held in Washington, D. C., on November 13.

The Peace Award is given annually "to an American whose outstanding achievements have helped further the Christian principles of justice and charity in international life".

Loyola Graduate

Dr. Fenwick was born in 1880 in Baltimore. He received his A.B. from Loyola in 1907, his Ph.D. from Hopkins in 1912 and his LL.D. from Marquette.

After lecturing on international law at Washington College, 1912-14, he went to Bryn Mawr where, in 1918, he became Professor of Political Science. He held this position until his retirement from teaching in 1945.

In 1936 Dr. Fenwick was the U. S. delegate to the Inter-Ameri-

I.R.C. Outlines Regional Meet December 5

The annual Regional Conference of the International Relations Club will be held at Loyola College on Sunday, December 5.

Sam Ady, president of the I.R.C., will be general chairman of the affair. Various problems dealing with the position of Red China in world affairs will be discussed. Four major questions will be considered: Should the U.S. recognize Red China?, Is Red China merely a puppet of Russia?, Is Red China becoming the leader of Asia? and Should Red China be admitted to the U.N.?

Dean To Address Delegates

The conference will last from 12 noon until 6 p.m. The Rev. Robert L. Hoggson, S.J., will deliver the welcoming address. The panels will follow. Panel chairmen will be Hal Sanks, Paul Rogers, Jim O'Hara and Bob Pula. Resolutions on the topics discussed will be adopted at a plenary session held in the latter part of the afternoon.

Representatives from ten schools in the Baltimore-Washington area are expected to attend.

Topics Discussed

Hal Sanks and Sam Ady were speakers at two recent meetings of the Loyola I.R.C. Hal Sanks outlined various considerations underlying the U.S. policy in regard to recognition of Red China. Sam Ady described the cleavage between East and West which is manifesting itself in Pakistan.

can Conference for the Maintenance of Peace, in Buenos Aires. In 1938, in Lima, Peru, he was delegate to the 8th International Conference of American States. During this same period, 1935-39, he served as president of the C.A.I.P.

Associate Editor

An expert on international law, Dr. Fenwick was Associate Editor of the International Law Journal. He is also a member of the International Law Association.

In addition to his other accomplishments, he is a noted author. The Neutrality Laws of the United States: Types of Restricted Sovereignty and Colonial Astronomy: and International Law are but a few of his many books.

He is presently Director of the Pan-American Union Department of International Law and Organization.

Fr. Gibbons Main Speaker

At the same banquet at which Dr. Fenwick was presented with the Peace Award, Rev. William J. Gibbons, S.J., Director of the Library, was the featured speaker. Fr. Gibbons' topic was "Population and World Politics."

Dance Featured After Loyola Nite Festivities

Loyola Nite, the one night during the year set aside to give the entire student body a chance to display its talents, will be presented in Cohn Hall tonight at 8:30 P.M.

Immediately following the show, Brayden Ridenour and his orchestra will provide music for dancing until one o'clock. The admission price is one dollar. This covers both the show and the dance. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Former Dean At Wheeling

The Rev. Joseph K. Drane, S.J., former Dean of Loyola College, is now the Acting Dean of the new Wheeling College in Wheeling, West Virginia. When Father Drane left Loyola two years ago, he was assigned to teach Latin and Greek at the Jesuit Novitiate at Wernersville, Pennsylvania. He was soon appointed Regional Director of Studies of Colleges and Universities in the Maryland Province and he holds that position at the present time.

When, on October 8, 1951, the Bishop of Wheeling, Archbishop John Joseph Swint, decided to build a college for the young Catholic men and women in his Archdiocese, he invited the Society of Jesus to administer and staff it. Ground was broken on November 24, 1953 for several buildings and an organizing committee was set up in Wheeling in July of this year.

President Is Alumnus

The president of the new college is the Rev. Lawrence R. McHugh, S.J., who graduated from Loyola College in 1928. Father McHugh went to Wheeling College from Georgetown University where he was Director of Admissions and Assistant Dean. The other officers of the college already assigned are the Rev. Clifford M. Lewis, S.J., Director of Public Relations, and the Rev. Edward R. Powers, S.J., Business Officer.

The new college, situated on approximately sixty acres of land in the suburbs of Wheeling, will open its doors to both men and women in September of 1955. This is one of the few colleges in the United States where the Jesuits will teach both sexes on an undergraduate level. A science building, an administration and library building, and a faculty residence are nearing completion. They will be dedicated on September 11, 1955.

Similar To Loyola

The college is similar to Loyola College in that it will have the same majors offered and in that there are no resident students. Students enrolled for the 1955-56 scholastic year will be offered majors in the Classics, English, Fine Arts, History, Political Science, Writing and Speaking Arts, Accounting, Business Administration, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Mathematics, and a two-year course in Engineering Science.

Mr. H. Charles Staley, director of the Dramatics Society (which is sponsoring the show), points out that the affair will put emphasis on variety and comedy. There will be skits, impersonations and pantomimes, along with plenty of songs and every kind of music from Chopin to Dixieland.

Ray Gaeng will be Master of Ceremonies. This is the third consecutive Loyola Nite that Ray has emceed. He will present his impersonations of movie stars and famous personalities. In addition, Ray has written, directed and produced several of the skits, one of which will satirize a popular television show.

In the same vein, a group of science students will parody the television drama Medic.

Vonasek Rendition

Frank Vonasek will do a pantomime of a number from a current Broadway hit. Frank, a regular performer at Loyola Nite, is best remembered for his rendition of Its in the Book which brought down the house two years ago.

The Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Felice Lula, will be on hand to furnish choral numbers. Several smaller singing groups have also been organized. Ferd Mainolfi's barbershop quartet will vocalize the old favorites. A quartet made up of Moe Bozel, Mick Voelkel, Frank Vonasek, and Charlie Wunder will do some currently popular numbers.

Original Composition

Bob Pula will play Chopin's well known Raindrop Prelude and an original composition of his own, Polonaise in G Minor.

For the cool cats who think that jive is "the most", the Dixieland Band will be featured again.

Nov. 27 Pep Rally

The Boosters Club announces that a Pep Rally will be held on November 27 immediately before the annual Alumni Game.

This affair will begin 7:30 o'clock and is being organized to send the Greyhounds off to a successful season with the full support of the student body.

The newly - uniformed cheerleaders will supervise the yells. Every Loyola student is urged to come prepared to scream himself hoarse. Bring along a copy of the new cheers and the Loyola fight song.

Hounds Duel Scranton In Tilt For Charity Here

On Sunday, January 2, 1955, the Greyhounds of Loyola College will play host to Scranton University in a charity basketball game. All proceeds from this game will go for the benefit of the Jesuit Missions in India.

Under the auspices of the Maryland Jesuit Mission Bureau, the game is expected to draw a capacity crowd in the Evergreen Gymnasium.

According to the Rev. Paul J. Gilvary, S.J., Assistant Director of Maryland Jesuit Mission Bureau, it is hoped that this game will become an annual affair. If it does, the Greyhounds will travel to Scranton next year to meet the Royals on their home court.

This is the first time in recent years that Loyola has participated in any athletic event for the Jesuit Missions. However, the plan of having Jesuit schools play charity games for this cause has worked out well in other cities in the Maryland Province. Father Gilvary stated that last year Georgetown and St. Joseph's College played before a capacity crowd in Philadelphia. As a result of that game, a large amount of money was realized for the Jesuit Missions.

Tickets on Sale

Already there is an advance sale of tickets, and it is urged that every Loyola College student buy one. The price is one dollar. All seats will be reserved.

Publicity for the affair is well underway, and at this point it is hoped that other Catholic schools and units will participate in the sale of tickets.

Jesuit Work

Few realize that the Maryland Jesuits carry on one of the most extensive missions in the world. Having recently taken over as mission territory a large part of India, the Maryland Jesuits have established several churches, mission outposts, high schools and a labor relations school.

Many of the Jesuits now serving in India are closely connected with Loyola and the city of Baltimore. Several studied at Woodstock College; many are alumni of Loyola College and High School.

Scranton Strong

In selecting Scranton as Loyola's opponent, Father Gilvary could not have matched a better pair. Like Loyola, Scranton has a strong young ball club. The game should go right down to the final minute before the outcome will be certain.

Debating Society Starts Season With Win Over Notre Dame of Maryland

Loyola College won its first Cardinal Gibbons Debating League contest on November 4 at Notre Dame of Maryland. Hal Sanks and Jim O'Hara represented Loyola.

On November 18, Loyola debaters won a close one from Mt. St. Mary's College. The debate was held at Loyola in the Xavier Lounge. John Tormey and Sam Ady upheld the affirmative for Loyola.

Students Invited

Yesterday, Jim O'Hara and Hal Sanks travelled to Georgetown School of Foreign Service. In the month of December, Loyola debaters will participate in three debates on the Evergreen campus. On December 2, they will meet Georgetown; on December 9 they will argue it out with Catholic U.; and on December 14 they will play host to the girls from Trinity College.

Members of the student body are encouraged to attend Loyola's home debates, according to John Tormey, debate president. They are usually held in Xavier Lounge at 4 P.M. The Greyhound Bulletin carries news of these debates.

Temple University Tournament

On December 4, Loyola College will be represented at a tournament at Temple University by two negative and two affirmative teams. Participation in the tournament is limited to those for whom this is the first year of college debating.

At the present time the Debating Society is carrying out an active program of intra-club debates to prepare its members for inter-collegiate debates later on in the year.

Library Reports Progress, Plans

The Rev. William J. Gibbons, S.J., Director of the Library, has issued a supplementary report on the activities of the Library, for the use of the Faculty.

The report, covering from July 1 to October 31 of this year, notes that a total of $4,650 has been spent in the purchasing of new books. Some 833 titles in all fields have been added in an effort to acquire a "well-balanced collection in all fields relating to the college program."

In addition, over one thousand books have been withdrawn from circulation or discarded as worn-out or useless.

At present, the English Department is working on a review of the volumes in that section. After evaluation, appropriate withdrawals and additions will be made.

Father Higgins, Scholar, Tutors, Writes, Guides

The quiet and unassuming Jesuit who, in addition to teaching ethics to the senior classmen, helps the spiritual life of the school by serving as Moderator of the Senior Sodality is the Rev. Thomas J. Higgins, S.J.

Rev. Thomas J. Higgins, S.J.

Father Higgins, who is a native of Philadelphia, entered the Society in 1915 at the Jesuit Novitiate at St. Andrew's-on-Hudson, N.Y., after graduating from St. Joseph's College in his home town.

After studying Philosophy and Theology at Woodstock College and teaching at Boston College High School, Father went to St.

Yearbook Cites Drastic Situation; Seeks Funds

The yearbook apparently is to be with us all days, even unto the consummation of the school year. As a result of the establishment of the cafeteria booth, sales have increased. Ad progress has not kept pace, however. According to Jim Durkan, the ad situation as it now exists seriously threatens the success of The Evergreen Annual.

Jim emphasized that the Evergreen is a school publication not solely intended for the glorification of the senior class. All classes will be represented in the book. In keeping with this truism, Editor Durkan has called for representatives from all classes to participate in the project. To date, one junior has stepped forward.

Commissions To Be Given

On the positive side of the ledger, Durkan noted the increased sales and the fact that the Boosters Club has agreed to cooperate in supplying additional impetus to the drive. He reminds all students of the commissions receivable for ads procured, and that the purpose of the Evergreen is to boost Loyola in toto.

Seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen are urged to take note—preferably a five dollar one.

Joseph's College in Philadelphia in 1929, and he remained there for the next ten years.

Became President

During this period he served the college as Dean of Men, then a Dean of the college, and then a President. He came to Loyola College in 1939 and took up the job of Professor of Ethics, a position he has had ever since.

Since coming to Loyola, Father Higgins has written two books, one of which, Man as Man, is a standard text in Ethics. Father's other book, Perfection Is For You, was issued last year.

Among the other accomplishments of Father Higgins was the presentation of a paper entitled "The Origin and Extent of Political Authority" at a philosophical convention held in Brussels, Belgium in the summer of 1953.

Interests Remain

While Father Higgins was a student in high school, he served as president of his debating society and as prefect of the sodality. He has maintained an interest in the Sodality until the present day, having been both founder and guiding spirit of the Sodality Union among the Catholic colleges of Baltimore.

Recently Father Higgins has had to undergo an operation to remove pressure from a nerve in his neck and he has had to leave the College for a brief period of rest and recuperation.

In the meantime, he can feel assured that all his friends and students at Loyola are hoping and praying for his good health and waiting for him to return to his work with his usual zest and good spirit.

Col. Minot, New PMS&T Has Long Army Career

Most Loyolans have by now met or, at least, seen Lt. Col. Charles A. Minot, new commander of the College's ROTC detachment, but few know very much about this new faculty member.

The new Professor of Military Science and Tactics comes to Loyola after an Army career of almost fifteen years. His record includes not only combat, but teaching and executive work as well.

Early Education

Colonel Minot was born in Chicago and educated in the public schools of Illinois and at the University of Illinois. In 1932, he received an ROTC Commission in the Organized Reserve upon graduation.

After his education was completed, Colonel Minot worked for a time as a shoe salesman, then took a position with the Western Electric Company in Cicero, Illinois. He held this position until November, 1940, when he was called to active duty at the Field Artillery School, Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

The then 1st Lieutenant Minot was named a battery commander at Fort Bragg, N.C. In 1941, he was promoted to Captain and shifted back to Fort Sill as an Instructor in Tactics, remaining there until March, 1943, when, as a Major, he was assigned to the 20th Armored Division Artillery at Camp Campbell, Ky.

Battalion Commander

In February, 1944, Colonel Minot was named Commander of the 759th Field Artillery Battalion (medium) at Camp Rucker, Ala., and he went to Europe in that capacity. He remained on the continent for two years, until February, 1946. He then was assigned as ORC instructor at Camp Girardeau, Missouri.

Assigned in 1953 as Battalion Commander of the 980th Field Artillery Battalion (medium) in the 40th Division Artillery in Korea, he saw combat in June and July until the truce was signed; then aided in safeguarding the truce.

Among the awards and medals which the Colonel wears are the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star, two Presidential Unit Citations in support of the 40th and 45th infantry divisions, and the Korean Ulchi Medal for meritorious service in support of the ROK Army.

Has Three Daughters

Colonel Minot was assigned to Loyola while with the 69th FABM of the 25th Division Artillery in Korea. The PSM&T is married to a former schoolmate at Illinois. He and Mrs. Minot have three daughters, the oldest, Madolyn, a sophomore at the University of Indiana.

When asked about his impressions of Loyola College, the new faculty member replied that he was very favorably impressed by the college atmosphere of friendliness, and that he found the students particularly neat in dress and appearance.

Colonel Minot then noted that he will conduct classes at Loyola in addition to his administrative work. While stationed here, the Minot family resides at 723 Hillen Road, Towson.

Management Club Visits DuPont Co.

The titanium oxide plant of the Dupont de Nemours Co. was visited on October 26 by the Management Club. Mr. C. E. Smith, the plant manager, explained how the black ore is made into titanium, the whitest known metal. Six of the plant's top men guided the thirty-five who made the trip through the plant. After the tour the club was served refreshments by the company.

Other Activities

President Al Rabassa hopes to plan a field trip through the McCormick and Co. plant in the future. On November 16, Mr. John R. Seifert of Legg and Co., a member of the New York Stock Exchange, lectured to the club. Mr. Allan Anthony of the Massachusetts Life Insurance Co. spoke to the organization on November 18 on the "Opportunities in Insurance".

Pershing Rifles Win Drill Prize In Competition

Lt. Col. Charles A. Minot announced last week that the Pershing Rifles were awarded first place in a drill competition at the Armistice Day parade at Parkville on November 11. More than seventy-five marching units took part in the parade.

This is just the second year that the Pershing Rifles' drill team has taken part in the competition. The other drill units in the meet represented local reserve units. The Pershing Rifles are under the command of Cadet Officer Bill Taymans. Last year Loyola placed third in the event.

Rifle Team Begins Meets

The Rifle Team began intercollegiate competition last week with a "shoulder to shoulder" match against Gettysburg College. The team plans an active season under the direction of Master Sgt. Albert C. Geckle. Irving Gans is president of the Rifle Team.

Col. Minot has also announced that drill will end the second week of December. There will be no drill from then until March. Ten weeks of marching in the spring will round out the drill activities for this year.

Freshman R.O.T.C. students last week began rifle practice. Practice with 22 caliber rifles is part of the regular course for freshmen.

Herzer To Address Humanites Club

The Humanities Club, a new organization on the Loyola campus, held its second meeting of the year in Xavier Lounge on Sunday evening, November 14. Dr. Janet Godlow, formerly of the Goucher College faculty, spoke on Dante's Divine Comedy. At an earlier meeting, Fr. William Davish, S.J. addressed the group on the works of Hilaire Belloc.

The club usually invites a member of either the Loyola faculty or the faculty of a nearby college to act as "guest expert" at the meeting. The guest selects a particular subject in which he is interested, and the meeting is built around the subject. The guest usually lectures to the club informally and then answers the questions of the group.

The next meeting of the Humanities Club is set for 7:30 on the evening of Tuesday, December 7. Meetings are held in Xavier Lounge. The guest for this meeting is Mr. Gustav Herzer of Loyola's English Department. The subject for the discussion is A Philosophy of Art, a field in which Mr. Herzer is particularly interested. Mr. George Farre, moderator, has extended a cordial invitation to everyone to attend.

Seniors Boast Jug-less Jim And 'Arguing' Al

DURKAN

There is among us at Evergreen a man who has the almost unheard of distinction of having graduated from Loyola High School without ever going to "Jug". Though many may rank this as the greatest of his achievements, it is hardly the only one. The name of this rare creature is Jim Durkan; his explanation for the above-mentioned feat, "I did it on a bet".

Scholarship Man

Graduating from St. Paul's elementary school in 1947, Jim went to Loyola High where he was active in the Sodality and the Booster's Club, and was editor of the school quarterly magazine. A regular first honors student, he graduated third in his class, and came to Evergreen on a scholarship.

Many Greyhounds are familiar with Jim's work on campus. He has been active in the Choir, the Glee Club, the Sodality, a member of the Greyhound staff for two years, and, finally, Editor of the 1955 edition of the Evergreen Annual. In addition to (or in spite of) all this, he has regularly found his way onto the Dean's List.

Charity Plus

What some are not aware of, however, is the time he spends at St. Mary's Villa doing group work with the underprivileged children, and in his parish, helping to take the parish census.

A top-flight pre-med student, Jim has already been accepted for the fall term at University of Maryland Medical School.

Jim's happy combination of quick wit and hard work bodes well for a successful future.

RABASSA

Anyone who doesn't know of Al Rabassa had better see an ear doctor. For, though he is certainly not to be classed a "loudmouth", still, whenever an argument arises, he is to be found, and in his own words, "arguing the loudest". If the discussion turns to politics, more than likely Al will be heard repeating his now famous watchwords, "The Republicans got to go!"

Al spent his earlier days at St. Elizabeth's, Mt. Washington Country School, and Calvert Hall in that order. Sports and money occupied much of his time at CHC, where he played football and soccer, and was elected treasurer of his class in his senior year.

At Loyola, Al continued to be active in sports. He played soccer for three years, and was a regular member of intramural teams, including a championship softball team.

A Business Administration major, he is president of the Management Club, and has been largely responsible for this organization's rejuvenation this year.

A Marine Too

When it comes to military service, Al's future is cut out for him. Under the Marine Corps' Platoon Leader's program, he will, upon graduation, receive his commission, and will serve two years of active duty as a Second Lieutenant.

Just what the future holds for Al is hard to say. But, one thing is sure; he will be heard from.

Quarterly Plans Christmas Issue

The next issue of the Evergreen Quarterly, scheduled to appear sometime during the Christmas season, will feature articles by many students. All of these students are juniors except one. This is, notes editor Dan Mackey, a rather disappointing fact, since the Quarterly aims at gathering writing from a wider range of individuals than those in the confines of merely one class. Letters to the editor are also welcomed.

Nuances to be introduced in the Christmas publication will include entertainment, book review and sports columns. Another innovation will be the use of thumbnail sketches of all the writers.

Editorials

Despite Our Differences . . .

. . . of opinion on some issues, we feel that the Evergreen Quarterly has not been given the student support which it deserves. The Quarterly is supposed to be a literary magazine for the students. In the issue that came out recently, there were only eight contributors. One of these was a member of the faculty; four others were on the editorial staff of the Quarterly. This means that there were only three other members of the student body participating in this activity. The enrollment of the college is over six hundred. The proportion becomes ridiculous! No doubt there were some who submitted material which was not published. But we doubt that those in this category were very numerous.

The amount of time and effort which the editors give so freely deserves much more support from the students than these figures would indicate. The Quarterly is supported by the college for the benefit of the students. It will soon become apparent to the college authorities that this money is not bearing fruit. The students would have no defense if the Quarterly were abandoned. It would be their own fault. The Greyhound, for one, does not want to see this happen. We, therefore, sincerely urge the students to contribute to the Quarterly and demonstrate some interest in this college activity that has been somewhat neglected thus far.

Beginning With Loyola Night . . .

. . . tonight, there are a series of events on the Campus which deserve student support. On Saturday, November 27, the Boosters Club is sponsoring a giant pep rally to be held in the Gym before the annual Alumni Game. All students should have received a copy of the cheers and the fight song at the assembly in Cohn Auditorium today. There is plenty of time to learn them and put them to good use on Saturday evening. There will be no excuse for missing this.

On December 2, 3, and 4, the Mask and Rapier Society presents its first production this year in the form of The Inspector General. In the past few years, the Dramatic Society has given some excellent performances but has never had the full support of the students. Their productions of Billy Budd and The Hasty Heart will not soon be forgotten. This Gogol satire promises to carry on that tradition. Cohn Auditorium holds six hundred people comfortably. Tickets are only seventy-five cents apiece. Surely, all the students can afford to attend one of the three nights, December 2, 3, 4. We can guarantee that you will get your money's worth!

And last but not least, the Glee Club will present its annual Christmas Concert in the Chapel on Sunday, December 12. Invitations will be sent to the parents of all Loyola College students to attend this traditional affair. It is always most enjoyable.

Election Of Permanent . . .

. . . officers for the Freshman Class will be held on Monday, December 13, from eleven until one o'clock in the cafeteria. The regulations for filing nomination petitions and for conducting a campaign are posted on the bulletin boards. The petitions of nomination must be in the Dean's Office no later than Monday, November 29.

Last year, there was a disturbing lack of interest on the part of the Freshmen in seeking these offices, with the result that the elections were not held until after the Christmas holidays. This delayed and seriously hampered the organization of the Class of 1957. In order to avoid a repetition of this unfortunate result, The Greyhound wishes to make sure that the Freshman Class is well aware of the procedure usually followed in class elections.

Normally, a regular political campaign is conducted on a small scale. Posters, handbills, lapel buttons, and even pamphlets dropped from airplanes, have been used in previous campaigns. (Advertising in The Greyhound is particularly successful.) Any kind of publicity stunt that does not harm or interfere with the normal activities and the property of the college is permissible. It really becomes a test in advertising.

Since the candidate for president who receives the second highest number of votes automatically becomes vice-president, there are only three offices for which nomination petitions should be submitted—president, secretary and treasurer. In many cases, a ticket is formed when candidates for each one of the offices join together to share campaign publicity and expenses.

Your Student Council

At the last meeting of the Student Council, the office of Commissioner of Intramurals was established as a permanent seat on the Council. The honor was bestowed in recognition of the splendid contribution that office has made to the betterment of the intramural sports program.

The present commissioner, Mr. Ed Fick, is doing a fine job in the execution of his duties.

A few weeks ago, the Student Lounge was closed for a one week period. This action was necessitated by the abuse of the Lounge by the members of the junior and senior classes. Please refrain in the future from holding private "luncheons" in the Lounge.

Much preparation and hard work have gone into making this rally Saturday night a tremendous success. Your attendance is necessary to put the final touches on the affair. I know for a fact that those who attend will have a very entertaining evening.

This rally has been planned by the Boosters Club, an organization that is relatively new on the campus, but which has done a great deal to spark activities already. They handled the posters and tickets for the Haunted House Dance and helped considerably to make it the success it was.

A Freshman Elections Committee was appointed and the co-chairmen are Mike Leakan and Larry Awalt. The requirements and regulations for filing petitions of nomination and conducting a campaign are posted on the bulletin boards.

Maurice Bozel,
President

The basketballing Hounds jumped into the win column quickly this year with a 70-58 victory over Fort Meade . . . Ever since Charlie Eckman arrived in Fort Wayne, the Zollners have been leading the league. It's nice to see a Baltimorean click . . . With so many ping-pong enthusiasts this year, maybe a doubles tournament is in order . . . Was that Ron Beagle or Bill Weglein playing right end for the Regimentals? He's quite a ball hawk . . . Loyola's swimming team won the Mason-Dixon crown last year. With Ed McComas and Jim Bracken back, and Wayne White ready to give it a try, they should just about drown their '55 opponents . . . Congratulations are forthcoming to the soccer and crosscountry teams. Enjoying one of their better years, the booters posted a 4-2-2 season. The cross-country team is still out of breath after splitting four meets. The Harriers wound it up in the Mason-Dixon tournament at Gallaudet on November 20 . . . Every now and then, someone wearing street shoes can be seen playing basketball in the gym. The College takes great pride in having a well kept and very beautiful gym floor. Last year a fine of a quarter was meted out to those who violated this rule, but this should be unnecessary. Let's either wear basketball shoes or play in stocking feet . . . What is Herman going to do with that hat now that the soccer season is over . . . Since replacing the drafted Jack Faw, Ed Fick has done a very creditable job as intramural czar . . . Saw Jim Eagle playing ping-pong in his bare feet. Maybe a collection should be taken up . . . Keep an eye on our wrestling team this year—they're on the upswing.

Bill Weglein, charging from his defensive line post, knocked down three passes after they had left the passer's hand . . .

Freshman Basketball Team Slates 19 Tilts For Season

Last year's phenomenal squad caused many of us to lose sight of the purpose behind the freshman basketball team. Freshman basketball is organized primarily to teach the newcomers a style of play like that of the varsity. If the better ballplayers accomplish this, the season is successful regardless of the record.

Lacks Depth

Coach Bill Phillips apparently has no complaints about this present squad. As a whole they are "green" and lack depth. Nevertheless, the starting aggregation has experience along with an adequate distribution of height, and are expected to take a good share of their games.

This year's schedule is similar to the schedules of former seasons. Thus far, sixteen games have been set with high schools and college frosh opposition. There are three remaining dates which Lefty Reitz will attempt to fill.

Dick Blackshire, noted as a passer, runner, receiver and punter, played defensive end in his Olympians' 9-7 win over the Rex Ramblers and caught Jack Burke for a decisive loss on the game's next-to-last play . . . Joe Murray is being touted as "unsung hero" of the intramural league for his line play.

Charlie McCullough, second-team all-Army selection, held Paul Arizin, 1952 N.B.A. scoring champion, to fourteen points in their first meeting. Arizin bagged twenty-eight when they met again.

Green Terrors Sport 'Murals, Course, Colts

by Ed Dentz

This is the third in a series of articles by the Greyhound Sports Staff on Loyola's Mason-Dixon Conference rivals.

Western Maryland College is located amidst the sloping hills of Westminster, Maryland. Its campus ranks second to none in natural beauty. Besides having a beautiful stadium and field house, the Green Terrors have the unique distinction of having their own golf course. So conducive is their campus to exercise that the Baltimore Colts hold spring practice there.

Extensive Sports Program

Western Maryland not only fields a football team, but also teams in basketball, baseball, soccer, lacrosse, tennis, golf and wrestling.

It can claim with pride that continuously, year after year, its teams are near the top of the standings. Much of the credit for this good showing goes to the fine coaching staff that the Green Terrors possess. Athletic Director Charles Havens coaches the football and golf squads, while Bruce Ferguson and Jim Boyer coach the basketball and baseball teams respectively. Jim Boyer, you may remember, was a major league umpire a few years back. Soccer Coach Phil Vhrig always fields a top-flight pitch team. Likewise, lacrosse mentor Bruce Ferguson and tennis coach Frank Hurt always come up with fine teams.

Intramural Program

Like Loyola, Western Maryland realizes the importance of an intramural sports program.

Cross Country Ends Campaign With 2-2 Record

On November 20, with Jimmy Henneman and Joe Chairs leading their leaping pack of spirited, enthusiastic freshmen, the Greyhounds raced toward the grand finale of their 1954 season at Gallaudet, Washington. They entered the Mason-Dixon Conference with a well-earned record of two wins and two losses.

Failing to outrun last year's champions, Loyola dropped their first contest to the Bluejays of Hopkins. After bounding back by defeating Mt. St. Mary's they again found themselves on the losing end as they encountered a strong Washington squad. But in their fourth meet, with the scent of victory quivering their nostrils, the Hounds bounded across the finish line and registered their second win by defeating Gallaudet.

Success A Miracle

And so the scoreboard indicates a moderately successful season. And even this can be considered a minor miracle in view of the sad plight which faced Coach McElroy's runners two months ago.

Cross-Country seemed to be doomed as a result of a definite lack of interest; but then came the freshmen. With them came the spirit, and the sport was saved.

With only two regulars from last year, Paul Feild, Captain, and Andy Maybo, the contingent of freshmen from Calvert Hall and Loyola High strengthened and bolstered the squad, and confidently carried the Green and Gray through the season.

Tom Gunning, Paul Rhode, John McCann, Jimmy Henneman and Joe Chairs, graduates of Calvert Hall, and Dick Derkowski from Loyola's Dons, all showed exceptional ability for their first crack at the running game. Johnny Lawler, also from Calvert Hall, showed promise in pre-season practice, but was forced to withdraw from the team due to an attack of pneumonia.

Star In First Year

Through the season, Jimmy Henneman and Joe Chairs performed exceptionally well, running first and second in order. And Dick Derkowski seemed to be the big surprise of the year. Progressing steadily and rapidly, Dick developed into a well balanced and consistent runner, placing third behind Chairs. Credit should also be given to McCann, a game competitor and big boost to the squad.

As of now, it seems that either Catholic U., Bridgewater or Roanoke may cop the M-D title. But it is quite safe to say, that with the present squad of now experienced freshmen, Loyola's hopes for future glory in the cross-country field may be well-founded.

Hounds Unsuccessful

Closing out the season, the Hound harriers placed last in a field of ten in the Mason-Dixon Tournament. Individual winner of the meet was Lou Buckley, from Washington College who ran the tough three mile course in 16:11. The time was very good considering that the ground was muddy which resulted in a slow track. Team winner was Roanoke College.

THE ALL-STAR FOOTBALL squad as chosen by an Intramural committee.

Ties Delay Football; Frosh Cops Net Title

Mitch Twardowicz, freshman from Loyola High School, won the intramural tennis championship last Thursday by defeating another freshman Tom Clifton, from Calvert Hall, 6-0, 6-1. George Panzer downed George Turner in an all-senior finals match to win the horseshoe championship; and the Bozel Bombshells and Streaks, both undefeated, meet at 12 noon today in a specially-scheduled semi-final football game.

The Streaks and Regimentals met indecisively four times last week, whereupon Intramural's Commissioner Ed Fick ruled "no contest" and rearranged the schedules.

Two T.D.'s Called Back

The first game was canceled in the second half when Regimental Gil Wheeler punted over the fence. The second game ended 6-6; the third tilt was scoreless and the fourth meeting was forty minutes of futile sudden death (winner is first team that scores) last Wednesday.

Two Regimental touchdowns on passes from Bill Miller to Bill Weglein were called back in the third game. One pass was caught out-of-bounds in the end zone and the other was from a punt reception and therefore illegal.

A safety by Tom McHugh against Jack Shriver gave the Olympians a 9-7 elimination victory over the Rex Ramblers, November 11.

Dick Blackshire ran fifteen yards for the winners' touchdown and passed to Dick Scharoun for the extra-point.

More Stalemates

The Rambling Rebels eliminated the freshmen Hondos, 6-0, on a pass from Jim Donohue to Bill Thompson in sudden-death overtime of their third tie game.

Two 6-6 standoffs had preceded the scoreless deadlock as Thompson sparked comeback T.D.s in each game that equalized Tom Strott - to - Tom Martel scoring passes.

In the first test, in which Connie Lanzi dislocated a shoulder diving for a pass, Thompson successively intercepted, passed, received and finally ran ten yards for the score. In the playoff tilt he passed to Charley Jesilionis for the tying marker.

The Rebels were then eliminated by the sophomore Olympians, 12-0, on two long Dick Blackshire passes, to Joey Gardner and Dick Scharoun.

In another consolation contest, between two sophomore squads, the Southern Gents were eliminated by the Choppers, 13-6. The "long and short of it" was that 6'8" Charlie McCullough caught three passes from 5'9" Cookie Fava for their team's thirteen points. McCullough also intercepted four Gent heaves.

The varsity-basketball duo nullified an opening-minute S.G. touchdown toss to Jim Colbourn from Dick Holz, set up by passes from Holz to Jim Vaeth and Ed McComas.

In tennis, Twardowicz and Clifton advanced to the finals over Tom Coyle and Pete Voight respectively. In quarter-final matches: Twardowicz bested Tom Sullivan, Clifton nipped Gene Fink, Coyle beat Dick Hunt and Voight tripped Jack McLaughlin. McLaughlin had advanced on a second-round forfeit by Joe Judge, last year's runner-up.

Horseshoe semi-finals saw Ross Conklin defeated by Turner and Panzer beat John Mannion. In the quarter-finals, the four semi-finalists respectively downed Bob Benzing, Frank McGovern, Bob Jump and Sal Carnagio.

Winter Sports Begin

Bowling, to be conducted at the Homeland Bowling Center, 5432 York Road, opens the winter intramural program this week.

Moe Schilling and Mat Butta, who set last year's single-game records with respective marks of 161 and 159, are expected to pace the league.

Basketball, individual foul shooting, swimming and ping pong will start soon. To allow time for scheduling, the deadline for all entries has been set as December 1.

The Streaks, with all-star center Jim Young returning, will defend their basketball crown; Jim Donohue, his table tennis title; and the Rex Ramblers, their swimming championship.

Jimmy Greenwell, who has graduated, won the foul shooting contest by sinking twenty-one out of twenty-five shots last year.

Varsity To Battle Alumni On Saturday

With the swift approach of Turkey Day and the basketball season, the hierarchy of the athletic department is setting its sights on a Mason-Dixon championship hoop squad. There is no doubt as to the quality of coach Reitz's aspirants. Few past teams could boast of such an array of height, speed and shooting ability.

Action in the Fort Meade Scrimmage.

The nucleus of the club consists of six returning veterans: Captain Bob Cucuel, a bear on the boards and a deadly set shot; Bill Brown, perhaps the team's "No. 1" playmaker; Jim Allenbaugh, with a jump shot that enabled him to successfully back up high scorer Joel Hittleman last year; Waide Howley, a sparkplug first class; Bobby Benzing, fastest man on the squad and a clutch producer during the '53-'54 campaign; and Bill Sturm, a smooth shot maker with lots of hustle.

Giants On Squad

As if this collection of talent isn't enough, Lefty also has at his call a quartet of giant sophomores: Charlie McCollough, 6'8", a good bet for a rough center; Jim Staiti, 6'4", high scorer on last year's top notch frosh squad; Paul Dodd, 6'2", who possessed the best shooting average among the freshmen; and "Big Red" Leyh, 6'7", a battling center man.

It looks as if we'll control the boards, but how about the playmaking? Just to mention the sophs in that department: Gene Grimes, Jack Benzing, Earl Hamper, Harp Fitzgerald and Jerry Komin, All-Maryland selections in their high school days and counted upon heavily by mentor Reitz to carry a part of the load of backcourt work.

Rack Up Victory

On November 10, the Greyhounds scrimmaged a talented Fort Meade quintet but had no trouble in racking up a 70-58 victory. The outstanding factor in the Hounds' triumph was their monopoly on the rebounds, especially when McCullough was in the game. No one seemed able to out-jump the giant center man even though the Generals had players of almost comparable size. Charlie played good position in bringing down shots.

In addition, Charlie dumped in nineteen points. The official opening of the '54-'55 season takes place on Saturday, November 27, when the alumni will challenge their younger counter-parts in the Evergreen gymnasium at 8:00 p.m.

M-D Tournament at Loyola

Pitchmen End With 4-4-2 Log

Loyola's 1954 soccer team has finished its season with a four won, four lost and two tied record. This is the best showing of a Hound pitch team in the last four years.

Wrong Foot

The team started play on the wrong foot by losing to both Maryland and Western Maryland in close games. A tie to Washington College and three successive wins over Georgetown, Mt. St. Mary's and Baltimore U. followed. The win over B.U. was the first Hound pitch victory over the Bees in the past five years. This was also Baltimore's only conference loss.

In the next game, Loyola traveled to Towson State Teachers and was beaten there rather soundly on a muddy field. American U. brought their new soccer team to Evergreen and engaged the Hounds. The Green and Grey scored five goals in the first period and then coasted to victory in this one-sided contest.

Tie Hopkins

Partly avenging last year's setback by the Jays, Loyola outplayed a favored Hopkins team but had to be satisfied with a one-all tie. Hopkins was the Mason-Dixon defending champs, having won the crown in '53. Traveling to the nation's capital, the Hounds then engaged the Cardinals of Catholic U. Loyola played the Cardinals on even terms for the first half but superior reserves turned the trick for Catholic, and they came out on the long end of a 3-1 score.

Deserves Credit

Every member of Loyola's soccer team deserves credit for his hustle and spirit during the season. Credit especially should go to Tom Lind for an excellent coaching job.

Hoop Capt. Bob Cucuel Tops Team

by Joe Manz

When the Greyhounds come out onto the basketball floor for their first game this winter, they will be led by Bob Cucuel, captain of this year's hardwood aggregation. This will be the fourth campaign in which this "Connecticut Yankee" has been a member of Coach Lefty Reitz's basketball squad.

Though the affable twenty-five year old senior has never been a prolific scorer, he has made his presence felt on the court as a defensive star and a strong rebounder for the Green and Grey. His 6'1", 194 lb. frame makes him respected by opponents under the backboards.

Connecticut Boy

Bob had his first taste of basketball activity at Greenwich High from which he graduated in 1948. While in high school, he also played football and was a member of the swimming team.

After graduation, Bob was drafted and he served in the army until the spring of 1950. However in September, 1950, he was recalled into service and put in another year of active duty. While he was in the army, Bob played basketball with Jerry Chadwick, who influenced him in his choice of Loyola to further his education.

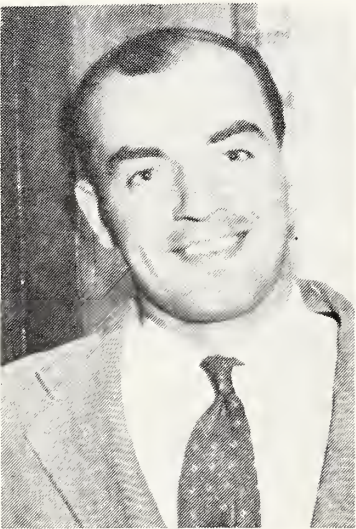

Besides his basketball activities, Bob is a two year member of the track team, participating in the shotput and the discus. He will captain the Greyhound track squad this coming spring.

All-Star Lineman

In his junior year Bob also found time to take part in intramural football, earning a position on the all-star team for his stellar line play. He has been an intramural swimmer for the past two winters.

Bob is currently vice-president of the Block L club and is a member of the Student Council and the Management Club.

Cucuel looks for an interesting basketball season and feels that the team outlook is good if the needed experience is obtained early in the season. He claims that the toughest part of the schedule is encountered by the Hounds early in the season, and that if they look good in these games, they have a good chance to win the conference.

Business Major

Around the campus he can usually be seen with his fellow members of the business class. Bob enjoys those occasional weekend trips to his home in Cos Cob, Connecticut in a 1950 Austin.

After graduation Bob hopes to make his first million somewhere in the business world.

GREYHOUND SPORTS

Running With The Hounds

by Jim Cole, Sports Editor

As you remember, a giant alumni rally was held one month ago in the gym. Its purpose was to help boost the sale of season books for Loyola's ten home basketball games. This rally was quite successful. Both Fr. Arthur and Coach Lefty Reitz were pleased at the returns. These men, the rest of the athletic department and, in particular, Loyola's 1954 basketball team want to extend to you alumni a hearty "Thank you" for supporting them this way. They also want to see all of the alumni present at "your game," on Saturday, November 27.

Basketball Books

Larry Hart in the athletic office has informed me that in contrast to alumni sales, the "giving" of basketball books to the students of Loyola, has been moving quite slowly. Time and again, the men of Loyola have been told when, where and how to acquire these books. But still the returns lag. With the Georgetown game only one week away and with many other good games with some of the finest teams in the east coming later, you would surely be unwise not to pick up your free book.

Seasons End

Fall sports have abandoned the Evergreen scene. The soccer team had its best record in four years as it posted a four win, four loss and two tie record. The Hounds this year defeated Baltimore U. and tied both Johns Hopkins and Washington College, all top teams in the Mason-Dixon. Although the Hounds will miss such stellar pitchmen as Captain Tom Bailey, Jim Donohue and John Mannion, who are graduating, prospects are high for next year. Coach Tom Lind will have twenty-one lettermen returning.

Cross country also enjoyed one of its best seasons in years. It posted a very fine two win-two loss record. The team downed Mt. St. Mary's and Gallaudet while losing to Hopkins and Washington. Bill McElroy's thinclads deserve much credit for their excellent spirit and will-to-win attitude while competing in one of the toughest sports known.

Intramurals

From the results which were recently posted in intramural football, it can be deduced that the league is better balanced this year than in the past. The Streaks, Regimentals and Bozel Bombshells all have good teams and any one of them could win the championship.

Basketball, swimming, a foul shooting contest, singles and doubles ping pong and bowling are the sports which are on Loyola's winter intramural scene, according to Ed Fick, commissioner. Bowling got under way last week at the Homeland alleys. From all indications, this sport seems to be the most popular of all intramurals. If the number of entries comes up to expectations, there will be two leagues on Monday and Tuesday nights. The charge will be seventy cents and will include the tip. Bowling shoes can be rented from Homeland at half-price. Trophies will be awarded members of the winning team with medals given to the second place finishers. Special awards are also being given for every game with a score of 150 or more. Students are reminded that, if they wish to bowl but cannot get the five men together needed for a team, they should see Ed Fick and he will place them on a team.

Basketball, the foul shooting contest and singles ping-pong will begin around the second week of December. Entry blanks are now available in the gymnasium for all of these sports. Deadline for entries is December 1. Basketball will be run the same as football. Two losses will drop a team from the league.

Winter Sports

Beside that much publicized cage sport, basketball, Loyola's athletic system also encompasses two other major winter sports. These are swimming and wrestling. As regards the former—last year, the Hound natators were one of the two Loyola teams to win a Mason-Dixon championship. Notwithstanding the loss of Lou McComas, one of the best swimmers in the school's history, this team should have another good season. The reason for this optimism is the return of such proven performers as Jim Bracken, Fred Simansky, Elmer Medley and others.

The wrestling team, on the other hand, will be slightly on the weak side. The loss of heavyweight champion Ned Callahan will be seriously felt by the Hound grapplers.
